"We Believe" . . .

. . . is more than just a slogan it was created in 1975, but it lived in 1976-1977. "We Believe" is a part of everything we say and do — from our athletic events to our classes. "We Believe" became our slogan for 1976-1977.

We believe in friends,

"We believe" began because we believed in each other. We had faith in friends, we learned the importance of sharing, and we understood that without love there is nothing. We soon discovered that "believing" was part of everything we did — beginning, growing, and ending with our friends.

love, and sharing . . .

We believe

in fads . . .

for however unusual they were, they penetrated JSB this year. Each of us had fads to believe in, and because we believed, these fads became the lifestyle of 1976-77.

We believe in

The heart of the "We believe" campaign lies in TROJAN POWER and Trojan teams. For whether they are winners or losers, we believe in them as people who have given their Trojan best.

Trojan Power . . .

We believe

in food . . .

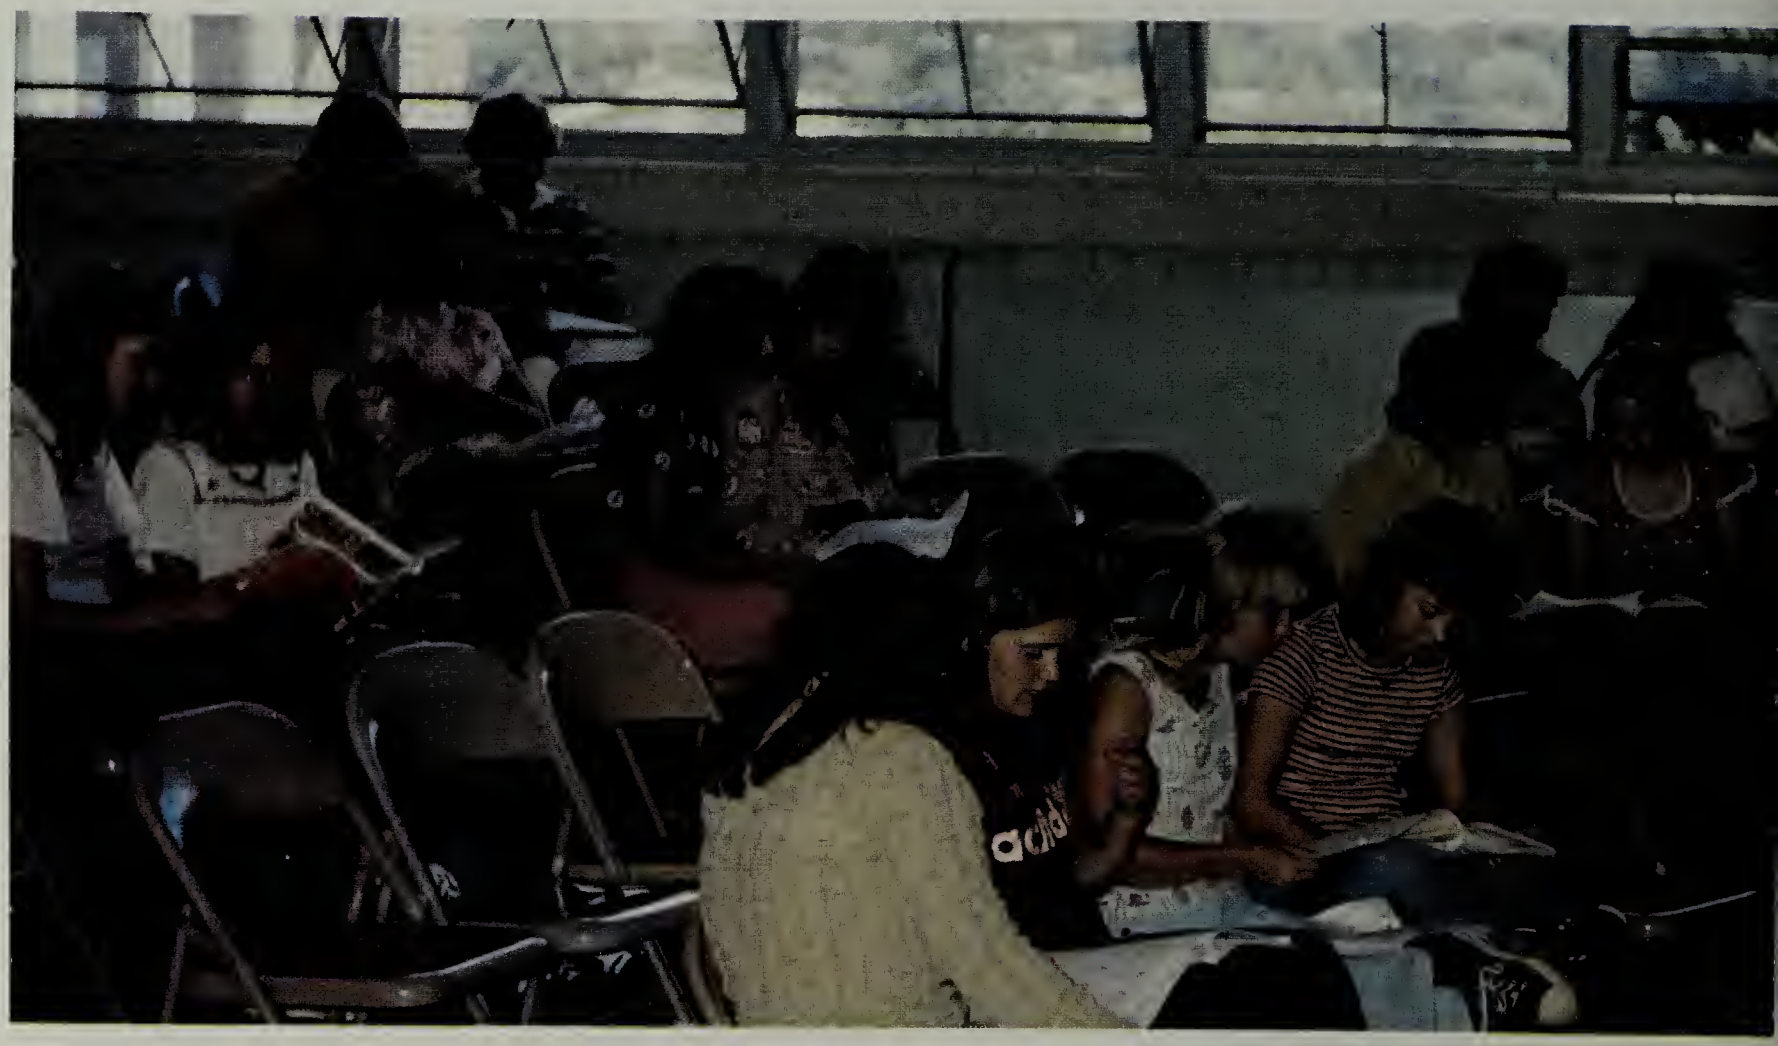

There would be no "Trojan Power" if we didn't believe in food. We believe in french fries, hamburgers, ice cream, that wonderful coke machine, and all those candy and bake sales — all of these things made our days so FULL!

We believe

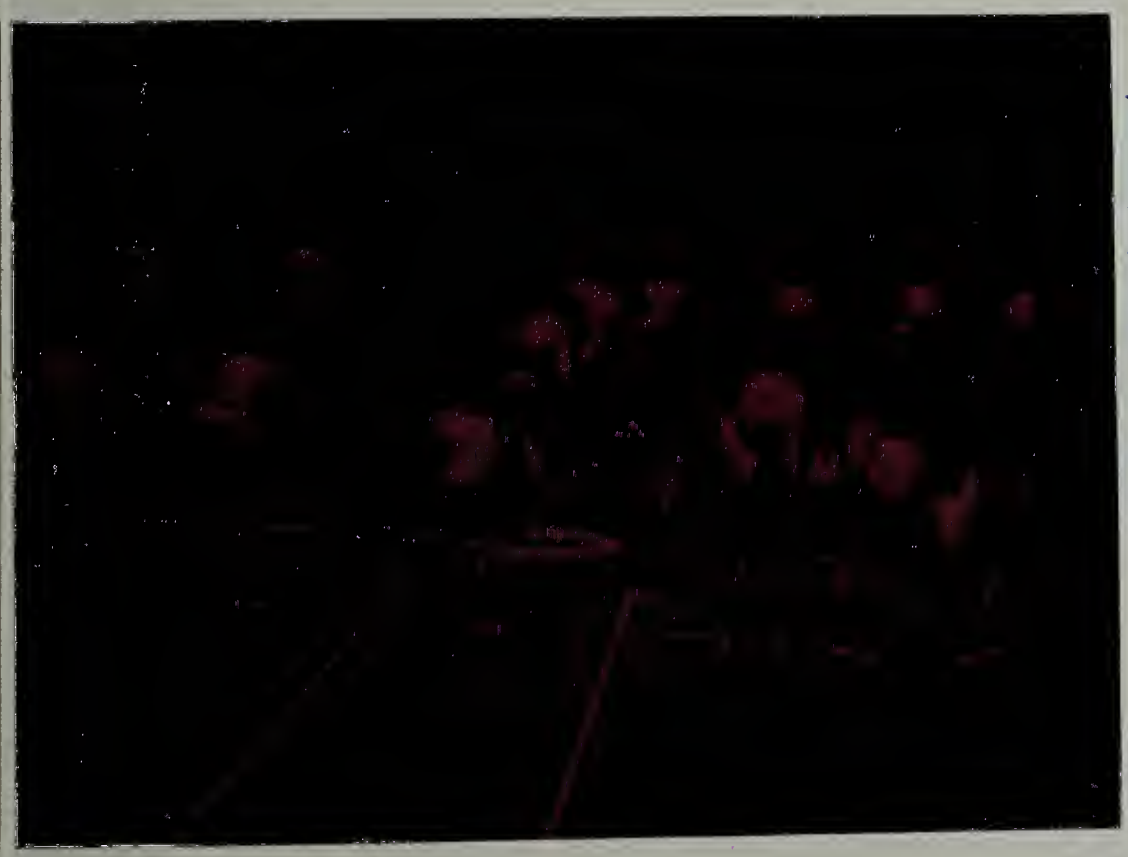

in music . . .

We believe in music — from the rock concerts, to the radio, to the JSB Band, to the music at church — all of these give a rhythm to our lives . . .

We believe in

. . . it forms the basis for many of our school activities — from sports, to academics, to elections, to beauty pageants, whether it be team competition, such as football, or individual competition such as wrestling and forensics; whether it be serious — or be in fun — we learn to respect our fellow competitors.

Dedication

We Believe In "Dingus" . . .

The 1977 Phoenix is dedicated to a teacher that we believe in, because she believes in her students. Joan P. Dingus has been teaching at Battle, since 1962. During these years at Battle, Mrs. Dingus has gone far beyond the "call of duty." She has been a loyal Trojan — supporting our teams through thick and thin. In her role as Senior class advisor, Mrs. Dingus has found that extra gift, personal contact with young people, that gives the teacher a whole new outlook on life. From doing the bunny hop at the Greaser Dance to leading the "Pomp and Circumstance" at graduation, Joan Dingus is always near to give her time and assistance. Besides being active in education, Mrs. Dingus has been extremely involved in the community through various clubs as well as her church and Sunday classes.

There is an old saying — the best things come in small packages — We on the 1977 Pheonix Staff believe that Joan P. Dingus is one of the best things to happen to John S. Battle. We proudly dedicate this annual to her.

Mrs. Dingus experiments with her chemistry class.

Bible Club worked for Santa Pal Project in Dec.

During the past year, the Bible Club met on the second Wednesday of each month. The major project of the year was the Santa Pal project at Christmas. Funds for the project were raised by free-will offerings and bake sales. Other club programs included speakers. Bible Club members also donated for Homecoming and received an honorable mention for their decoration.

Club officers were: Diana Martin (Pres.), Wendy Leonard (V. Pres.), Diane Vanhook (Sec.), Sandy Sproles (Treas.), Debbie Sproles (Chap.), Glenn Long (Sgt.-at-Arms), Mike Blevins (Parl.), Kathy McCracken (Rep.), The chaplain also led devotions for PTSA meetings.

Civitans

Jr. Civitans donate funds to Track Team

The Jr. Civitan Club was active in many school activities during the past year. They sponsored a lollipop sale with the profits donated to the track team. Club members also sold Claxton fruitcakes during the holiday season. They attended monthly dinners at the Civitan Club in Abingdon.

Officers for 1976-1977 were: Sterl Cullop (President), Daryll Simcox (Vice President), Robby Johnson (Secretary). Coach Phil Robbins was the club sponsor.

DECA

DE students take active roll in DECA Week

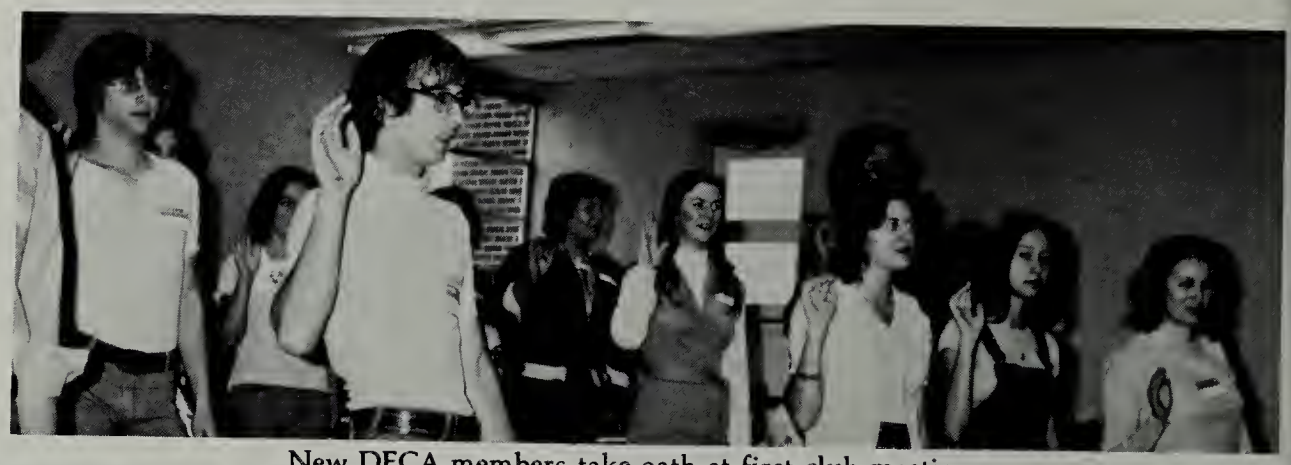

DECA was made up of students enrolled in Distributive Education classes. In addition to their monthly club meeting at school, members also held a professional meeting each month. During National DECA Week in November, members presented an informative program on DE to the Kiwanis Club. They also provided coffee and donuts for teachers, as well as giving out suckers to students.

Club members took time out from DECA activities to participate in school activities which included Homecoming decorations, student follies, and promoting school spirit.

Throughout the year members and officers attended DE workshops and regional meetings. They competed in District and state DECA competition. The final activity of the year was the Employer-Employee Banquet.

Mardi Gras held for spring sports

The French Club participated in a wide range of school activities during the past year. Members turned out to support their school by decorating for homecoming. They also entered Tony Fleenor in the Miss Student Follies contest in the Fall. Besides showing enthusiastic support for the school, the French Club sought to raise runds in order to bring another AFS student to Battle next year. Although the rough winter forced them to cancel some of their projects, they were able to raise some funds as well as having a great year. With the coming of Spring, members forged ahead on plans for the Mardi Gras in celebration of Spring Sports. They closed the year with a party for Nathalie Renard, our AFS student from France. Officers were: David Hayden (President), Danny Moody (Vice President), Lisa Sharrett (Secretary), Ricky Phillips (Treasurer). Sponsor was Mrs. Sandra Kemmish.

FFA members build float for parades.

The Future Farmers of America (FFA) was one of the largest clubs at school this year and one of the busiest. The members were involved in several area contests — Dairy judging, forestry judging, and tractor trouble shooting. They also participated in individual contests -- Public Speaking and the Tractor Driving Contest. During the Fall months members worked hard to build their float for the annual Christmas parades. In addition to the float, the members sponsored a Halloween Dance with the FHA. Other highlights of the year included the Spring barbecue, FFA-FHA Camp, State FFA convention, and summer picnic.

Club sponsored Easter egg sale

The Library Club played an important role as they assisted the librarians. They were responsible for filing cards, books, magazines, and other materials and for supplying audio-visual equipment and materials to the classroom. The club sponsored a child at the Tri-State Orphanage. They also had a tea for faculty members in April and partook of a steak dinner themselves at the end of the year. A film for the students and the sale of chocolate Easter eggs were their two fund raising projects. Money from these projects was used to improve the library and audio-visual services, to arouse enthusiasm for the media center and its services, and to encourage interest in the library profession.

Phoenix Staff

Staff has record sales for annuals

Another year another annual. This year the annual staff worked very hard to produce an exceptional annual that represented each student and reminded him of his 1976-77 year at John S. Battle.

The annual staff started the year off right with a new record of selling 870 annuals. Fran Harley and Jeannie Anderson each received a free annual for their persistence and hard work in selling the most annuals. But the work had only begun. There was cropping pictures, designing layouts, making up captions, and many more jobs that each club member participated in.

The annual staff also participated in many school activities. Some of these being the decorating of halls for homecoming, the Mardi Gras, and of course helping with student pictures.

Becky Countiss, editor, and Lisa Sharrett, assist. editor, work seriously on layouts for '77 Phoenix.

There was also the enjoyment and fun that being on the annual staff brought to each member. Things such as the chocalate chip cookies and Kool-Aid and of course the week of the annual sales. During that week annual staff members dressed as senior citizens, storybook characters, little kids, and sports characters. All the participants got a big kick out of our masquerade week.

Student In Action For Education

SAE hosts Faculty Lunch in November

The SAE had a great interest in school activities and those in the community as well. The club sponsored a Faculty Lunch during American Education Week. Many club members participated in the annual Student-Teacher Day at the local elementary schools in the Spring. A special activity was held in May for Teacher Appreciation. In addition to these projects, the members donated to a "needy" fund in guidance and adopted a family for Christmas.

SCA works for better school and community

The 1976-77 Student Cooperative worked to better our school, by taking various problems suggested by members and trying to correct them. The SCA gave a Fall orientation for 8th graders, worked toward the tennis courts, and placed a plaque in the school cafeteria. They also sponsored student activities which included the Student Follies, during which Bruce Bentley was crowned queen, the canned food drive to help with the Bristol Herald Courier Food Drive, and the Christmas Dance. SCA representatives attended the Holston District SCA meeting at Fort Chiswell and the State SCA meeting at James Wood High School in Winchester. Activities were conducted under the guidance of Mr. Mashburn and Mr. Smith.

The Alpha Tri-Hi-Y was active in many social, school, and community projects. To finance their service trips members had two car washes, a concession stand at the Southeastern Band Festival, sold mini-footballs, and sponsored two bake sales. The girls took Thanksgiving fruit baskets to patients in the Griffeth Nursing Home and gave a Valentine's Party for the children at the Janie Hammitt home. They also sponsored a Santa Pal. Several members served as guides for College Day and as chaperones for the Halloween Sleep-in at the Y. Some of the girls also attended the Youth Legislative Conference in Nashville, Tenn.

Our school newspaper, The Trojan Voice, was published by a volunteer staff, who gave of their free time at school to work on the newspaper. Even though staff members have had no formal training in journalism, they make every effort to produce a professional newspaper. For their excellent achievement during the 1975-76 year, The Troajn Voice received a 1st place rating from the Virginia High School League.

We believe in

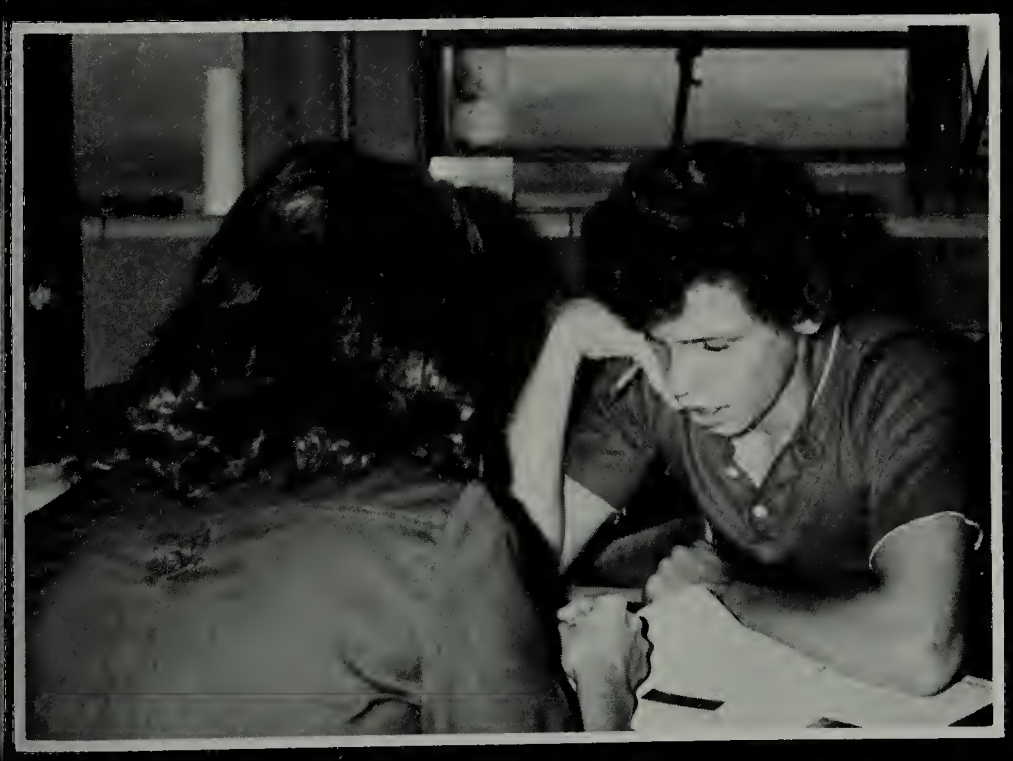

academics . . .

for our purpose in being here is to gain knowledge. From our classes we are able to learn a small portion of the vast amount of knowledge and wisdom of time. Whether it be English, science, technical training, or home economics — all of these will help us to better understand ourselves and our fellow man.

Art students take field trip to VI College

Many students participated in the art program, which not only developed student skills for production, but also aroused the students' imagination. Activities offered to art students included drawing, painting, printmaking, collage, weaving, stitchery, macrame, sculpture, pottery, lettering, and poster design. Art student maintained two bulletins with their various artistic productions. They also displayed many of their creations in the halls during an art contest. The various entries were judged and presented ribbons for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd places. Many students also took part in a field trip to VI College, as well as other trips to museums in the area. The art department prepares the students for art related jobs for the future and satisfies the students artistic abilities for his personal use.

Music

New music theory class receives instruction on difficult scales.

New music classes offered

Music was an elective class for many students. Several students in grades 9-12 enrolled in chorus which involved singing for performance and the fundamentals of choral singing. Another course, General Music, was taken by students in grades 8-10. This class, designed for the non-musician, studied the fundamentals of music through different instruments and different types of music. Some singing was incorporated into the program. Other students in a course designed for the serious music student, in grades 10-12, studied scales, keys, intervals, and recognition of melodies and harmonies. These new music programs have certainly given Battle a well-rounded curriculum.

The Trojan Band had their best season ever. During the fall they marched for football games and participated in three competitions, from which they brought back Division I ratings. They also won the Sweepstakes trophy at the Lonesome Pine Band Festival for the highest parade and field score. Their success was not limited to competition, they placed a total of thirty-nine students in Junior and Senior All-Region Bands, as well as forty to All-County Bands. Other members, Apryl Denny, Reba Fleenor, Debbie King, Donna Tate, Mary Munsey, and Mike Meredith, qualified for all-Virginia Band auditions.

The band presented a Christmas Pops Concert, as well as taking part in concert competition and a jazz band tour.

Physical Education

New co-ed classes added

"One, Two, Ready Go!" But this year, the voices harmonized; for the first time the Physical Education classes were Co-Ed. Both boys and girls in the same class gave the students more competitive drive and made phys. ed. a much more interesting class. Students were able to play such co-ed sports as battleball, volleyball, table tennis, and badmitton. During the health classes each week, 9th grade students tried their hands at first aid, while 8th graders studied many different health concerns. Sophomores were instructed in Driver's education. Many Juniors and Seniors took part in an elective P.E. course, involving skills in areas such as tennis, basketball, golf, etc.

Boys still take time out to practice basketball while girls do the same.

Many students were able to participate in "behind the wheel" driving experience. Sophomores who have passed Driver Education and reach the age of 15 years and 8 months are eligible for drivers' training.

During their behind-the-wheel training, the students devoted 7 hours to observation and 7 hours to actual driving experience. Students who complete Drivers' Training are entitled to 10% discount on their auto insurance, Crabtree Buick-Pontiac and Washington County Motors both provide a car for the students in drivers training. We appreciate their support.

With the calculator craze booming and their use at an all time high, students found that they still had to know the basics which are essential to the use of math. However, they have found that math is no longer the boring course it once was. Students learned the use of decimals and fractions. Many students who show a great interest and talent in the field of math take a full five- year college prep program, which involves algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and pre-calculus. Activities in these classes prepared the students for further study, as well as the practical experience of the calculator.

Students become aware of the importance of math in every aspect of the working world. There is scarcely a single career that does not require some degree of mathematical ability.

Science

Environmental class offered during 76-77

Several students in all grades were enrolled in one of the many science courses - Science 8, Earth Science, Biology, Environmental Science, Chemistry, Physics, and Senior Biology. They learned to use the metric system, as well as many practical applications of science to their own lives. Besides instruction in proper experiment procedure, students were able to research projects of their own interest. Hikes were taken to bring materials back to class for observation.

Students in the advances classes were able to take several field trips to colleges in the Bristol area. Other classes took time out from classroom studies to visit Bays Mountain Observatory.

Projects were entered in the Clinch Valley College Regional Science Fair. Outstanding science papers were also accepted at Virginia Junior Academy of Science. The Science projects gave students a chance to further their science education by winning scholarships and giving scientific experience.

Social Studies

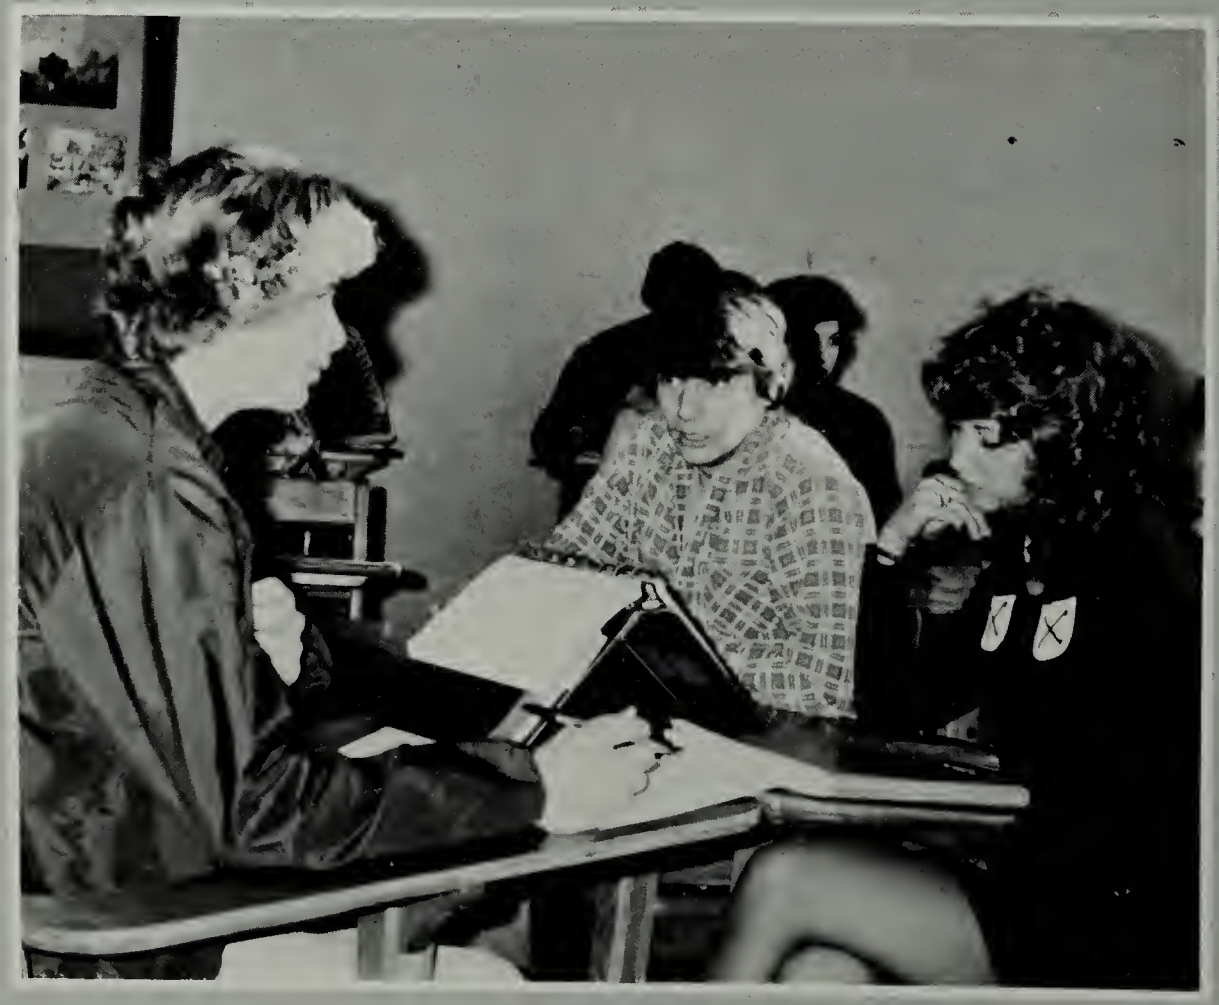

'76 Election part of Social Studies Classes

The Social Studies program offered ten courses to provide students with a variety of subject matters, from learning of yesterday to developing tomorrow's citizens. Juniors took U.S. History while Seniors studied Government. Both classes were involved in the '76 election during which they made election scrapbooks. Students also enrolled in classes such as economics, sociology, world history, world geography, and psychology as electives. Activities varied from guest speakers, to IQ tests, to dressing up in Appalachian dress.

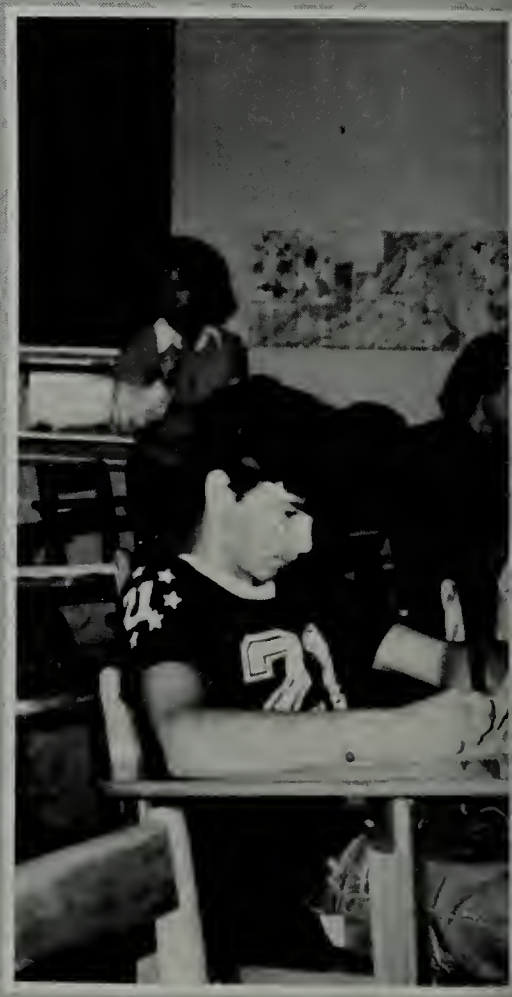

Jayde Fleenor represented Battle in a program called A Presidential Classroom for Young Americans. Jayde spent seven days in Washington, D.C. participating. Many students also participated in the annual FVW "Voice of Democracy" contest.

Electives add excitement to 10th-12th English classes

Excitement unlimited arrived in the English classroom in the form of an Electives program for the first time. During each semester Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors had a 9 weeks of traditional English with emphasis on composition and other skills. Students prepared book reports — oral and written, read literature of various types and participated in group discussions. During the second 9 weeks of each semester, 10-12th graders were able to choose from 13 electives — "Shakespeare," "Mark Twain" "Death as a Way of Life," "Wild, Wild West." "Dare to be You," "Science Fiction," "Bible as Literature," "Appalachain Literature," "Folklore," "Comic Spirit of American," "Who Done It," "Sports," "Doing Your thing in Drama."

Many new activities were created around the elective classes, which provided an interesting change of pace for students and teachers alike. Students in "Death as a Way of Life" visited a mortuary, while students in "Shakespeare" attended the film version of "Romeo and Juliet". The Appalachian literature classes hosted several local resource people, who brought in a wealth of information on various aspects of Appalachian.

English

8th — 9th grades worked on skills

The eighth and ninth grade English classes remained in a 6 weeks grading period. All eighth grade classes spent two weeks in the library for orientation to acquaint them with the facilities available. Focus in both grade levels was on basic skills in reading, writing and speaking. Aciti-vities varied from book reports, to reading literature, to grammar exercises, to short speeches, to filmstrips and records.

Peggy France brouses in library after 8th grade orientation.

Many students in grades 9-12 take part in Drama for the entire year. The class studied the particulars of drama, acting and the stage. During the fall, they were able to attend the VI workshop. Many of the Drama students were involved in the production of "The Fighting Parson." Later in the year the Drama class brightened the holidays with their annual Christmas production. Following the holidays, they hosted the district and regional one-act play festivals. The highlight of their year was a trip to the world-famous Barter Theatre.

Reading

Reading students made improvements on their basic skills.

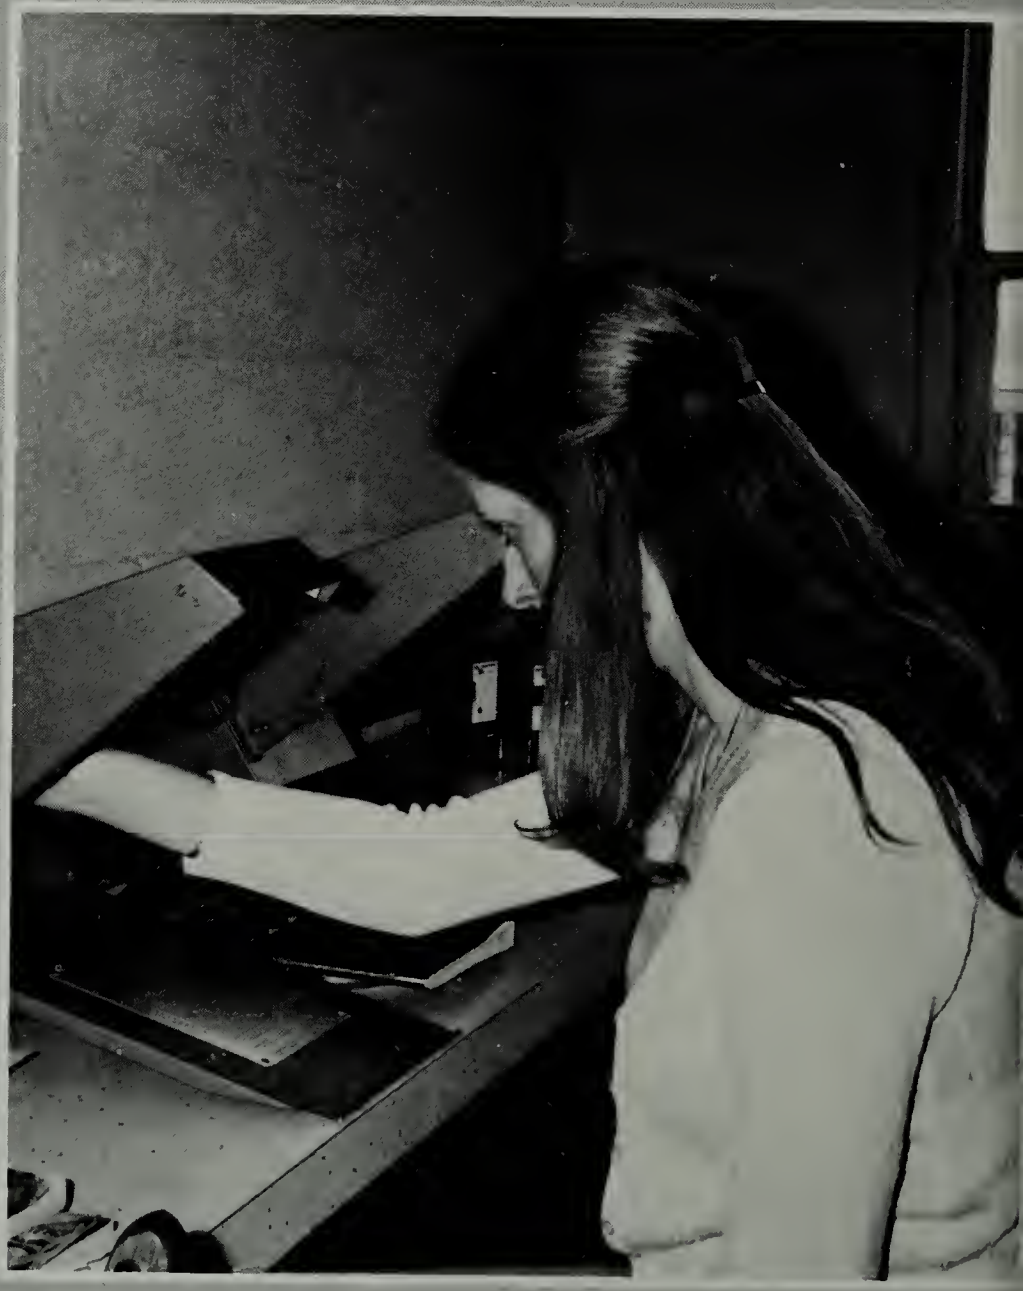

Reading improvement classes gave instruction in the four basic areas of comprehension, vocabulary, rate, and study skills. Tests were given to students at the beginning of the year to determine each of their needs. During the year, work was planned to meet these needs. Work assignments varied from reading skills to reading improvement in speed with the reading machines. Students spent time using the library and its resources, as well as browsing and reading magazines and books for pleasure. At the end of the year, other tests were given to measure the students' progress.

Foreign Language

Students in Foreign Language planned trips

Language classes were enhanced by several visitors during the year. The students were fortunate to have students from France, Brasil, Mexico, Italy and Finland visit their classes. The classes also planned to bring Christmas songs in French and Spanish to the other students, but snow cancelled their plans.

The French students participated in many cultural projects, learned numerous songs, and cooked some elegant French foods. The French II classes recreated a minature Paris within the room. Students also explored foreign language careers, as well as careers influenced by forgein language. Besides all the studying they found time to learn about Canada and planned a trip to Quebec for the summer. Nathalie, our AFS student, contributed greatly to the French classes. She brought real French life to the classroom.

First year Spanish students made pinatas for Christmas, The Second year students made Ojos de Dios and decorated the room with wall hangings and mobiles. Songs, foods, and games were a part of the Spanish program as well. Spanish students took simulated trips to several Spanish speaking countries using passports and tourist cards. Some students participated in Language Day at ETSU. Plans were made for a trip to Mexico.

Distributive Education

DE students work half day and study for distribution jobs

Distributive education courses are offered for students in the 10th-12th grades. Although students in DE I have no scheduled on-the-job training, they still learned about the fundamentals of the business world. The cooperative programs of DE II and III allowed students to participate in classroom activities as well as on-the-job training.

Throughout the year DE students gained valuable insights into the business world through class projects and activities as well as their first hand job experience. Sophomore, Junior and Senior projects competed in statewide DE contest in March.

Business students gained practical experience

The business department offers several courses which include General Business, Typewriting I and II, Shorthand I and II, Bookkeeping, and Office Practice. Many students take in at least one year of typewriting for practical and personal use.

New business students began their curriculum with General Business, as freshmen and worked their way up to Office Practice as Seniors, which integrated all previously developed skills and knowledge into a practical course that includes filing, business machines, telephone techniques, and numerous other aspects of office work.

Several business students attended the annual contests at Virginia Highlands, where they placed very high, as usual, amongst the competitors from other schools in southwest Virginia.

Agriculture

Pre-Ag offered to 8th graders

For the first time Agriculture was offered to all eighth grade girls and boys on an Exploratory basis. An outgrowth of the Exploratory class was Pre-Agriculture. This class was offered to 20-8th grade students as a full-year class. Agriculture and Horticulture classes took part in maintaining the school grounds. Students, who were enrolled in Agriculture, participated in such learning activities as — tool fitting, plant science, metal-fabrication, arc-welding, conservation and leadership training. The Horticulture students grew poinsettas, Easter lilies, and many vegetables during the year. Carpentry students helped put up a basketball hoop in the back parking lot. The Young Farmers participated in several tractor-pulls, while good weather permitted.

Many different programs were offered this year — Auto Body Repair, Auto Mechanics, Carpentry, Cosmetology, Drafting, Electricity, Health Aides, Heating and Plumbing, Home Economics, Masonry, Practical Nursing, Printing, and Welding. New courses offered were — Electronics and small engine repair. In each of these classes the students experienced an actual "workP-type" experience,whether it be in repairing a smashed car, building a brick wall or fixing someone's hair. Students received 2 1/2 credits for successful completion of each year of vocational training. In addition, all students attending the technical school were elegible to belong to VICA, the club for vocational students.

Technical School

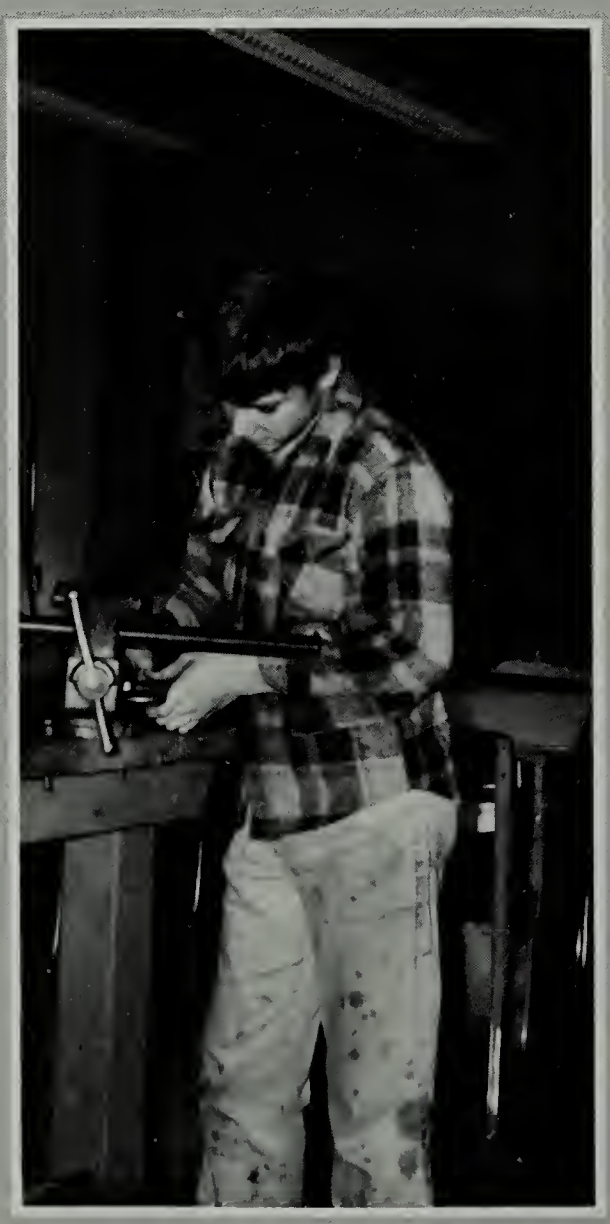

Freshmen and Sophomores learn trade skills at vocational school

Freshmen and Sophomores from all 4 high schools took part in pre-vocational program based at the old technical school. This program is exploratory in nature with offerings in beauty aids, masonry, electricity, plumbing, and auto servicing. Much the same, only not as intensive, as the Junior and Senior offerings. These courses also provided actual training in bricklaying, plumbing and many others.

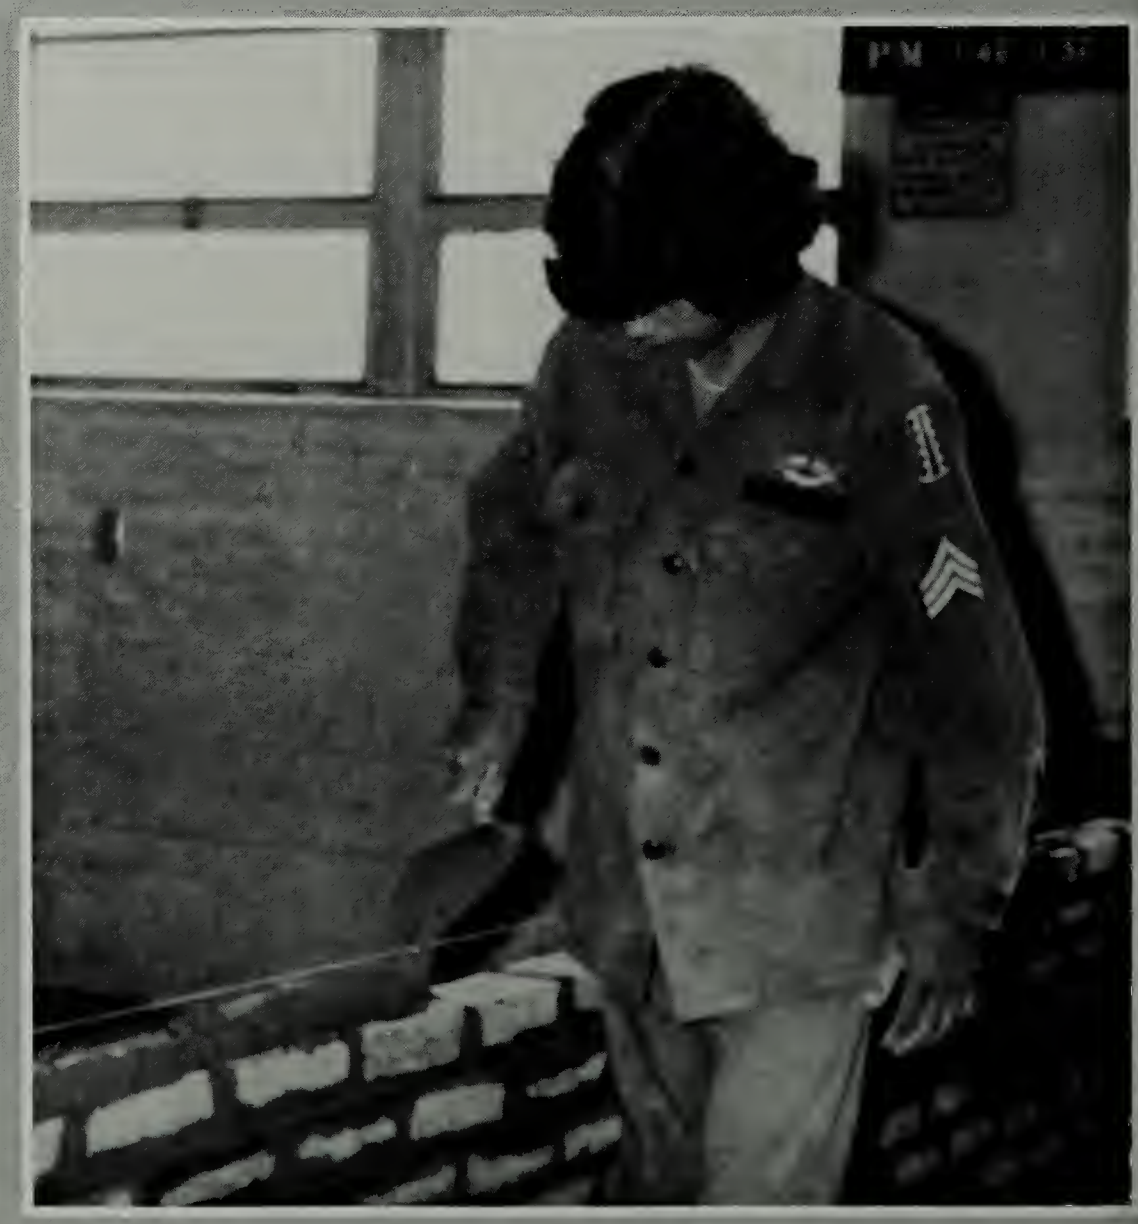

Students mended pipes, layed bricks, serviced automobiles and wired actual electrical connections. This exploratory training is preparation for actual vocational training to be taken at the Neff Center.

Eighth graders took exploratory classes

All eighth grade students participated in an Exploratory program, involving study in six different areas — Business, Home Economics, Agriculture, Foreign Language, Local History, and guidance. After spending 6 weeks in each area, the students had a better knowledge of courses offered at Battle and the type of courses they were interested in.

Activities in the various exploratory classes ranged from typing, to filmstrips, to guest speakers, to crewel embroidery, to preparing French crepes. Although there was a lot of learning, there was also a lot of fun. Students were graded on a pass- fail basis.

Trojan "I Believe" gained new strength in NEW SEASON

The Trojans got their season off to a slow start in 3 losses to Abingdon, Tazewell and Tennessee High. The Trojan "I Believe" was trampled into the dust during these first three games. Moreover, head coach, Phil Robbins, was out for surgery and an assistant coach resigned. All this got the Trojans '76 season off to a bad start.

However, the Trojans began their "New Season" as they defeated Patrick Henry 20-12. The Trojans overpowered the Rebels with 300 yards offense, superb defense, 2 interceptions, and fantastic yardage by Darren Wagner and Gilmer Meade. Following the victory over PH, the Trojans put together pride, guts, determintation, painted their faces, and marched over Virginia High for their 2nd victory of the new season. The Trojans took advantage of Virginia High fumbles and intercepted 4 passes, while the Trojan defense held the Bearcats to 8 points. However "UP" they were for Homecoming with Richlands -the rain came down in buckets, and the game went to the Blue Tornadoes.

Although they lost to Marion and Graham, the Trojans trampled Grundy 27-6 to ruin Grundy's homecoming. Although the Trojans wound up the year with a 3-7 record, they made a fine effort that was admired by all who supported them.

Battle took spark out of Bearcats, 14-8

Putting together PRIDE, GUTS, and DETERMINATION, the Trojans stunned Virginia High, as the defensive team put the wall to the Bearcats. Capitalizing on four interceptions and two fumbles, the Trojans scored in the second and third quarters. The team contributed their victory to "total team effort" as seen in their motto PGD, and the fierce paint symbolizing their motto.

The entire defensive unit was named "players of the week".

JV Football

JV team captures 5 victories for 4-2 season

Putting forth that extra bit of Trojan Power brought the JV team a winning season. Spirited on by the fine playing of John Miller, Kenneth Perrigan, David Owens, David Schor, and David Henry, the JV Trojans marched down the field to score 130 points against their opponents. They held opponents, Gate City and Patrick Henry, to zero during the first two games of the season. Upset by Abingdon in a tough game, the Trojans came back the following week to take a big victory over the Gate City Blue Devils. Managing to hold Patrick Henry to 6 points in their second encounter, the JV team took their fifth victory. Their second loss came in the last game of the season with the VHS Bearcats.

8th grade team has tough season

Although the eight grade team worked many long hours learning plays, they were unable to out score their oppoenents. Cross Country Team makes great improvement

The 1976 edition of the Trojan Cross-Country team faced the task of building a competitive cross-country team after losing four top lettermen at the beginning of the season. The team responded by enduring without complaint, the many miles of rigorous practice, consistently lowered times, and managed to defeat several area teams including Patrick Henry, Abingdon, Sullivan Central. Moreover, the team finished 9th in the prestigious Scarlet Hurricane Invitational, beating Christiansburg, Alleghany County, and Giles, County. The top varsity runner was Ricky Johnson, whose consistent performances won him All-S.W. District Honors. Other varsity runners were Daryll Simcox, Jackie Puckett, Ricky Chafin, Ben Abel, Kelsey Owens and Dirk Warriner.

The JV team, led by sophomore Bill Worley and 8th graders Roger Sikorski and Brad Robinson, captured the second place trophy at the Marion invitational in its best performance of the year.

The team has thirteen of fourteen runners returning for next season and looks toward a bright future.

Ricky Johnson led cross country team with his best time of 17.13.

Team struggles with bad season

This was undoubtedly one of our worst seasons ever. The Trojans struggled through a long season with the team suffering defeat after defeat. The team did capture three victories — Holston, Richlands, and a thriller against Marion. Jim Posey moves ball down court with VHS.

Boo Chafin puts in 2 against VHS.

Through a very disruptive season, the JV team put forth a fine effort which brought them self-satisfaction and 6 victories. Among these victories were games with Gate City (overtime), Patrick Henry, and Tazewell. Many of their losses were extremely close and could have gone either way. This was true for both games with VHS and those with Abingdon, which were lost by just a few points.

Eighth graders defeat Abingdon

The eighth graders worked hard to learn their skills and techniques. Of course the bad winter not only cancelled some of their games, but many hours of practice as well. And although they won only one game during the season, they acquired leadership and experience that will prepare them for the years ahead. They were coached by John Peltier.

Grapplers fair well at district

The Trojan grapplers had a very decisive season. With a young team Coaches Tallman and Mink led their matmen to victories over Patrick Henry, VHS, Graham, and a tie with George Wythe. The match with VHS was extremely exciting, as we had tied the Bearcats 25-25, and a technical cost them the match.

The District Tournament was held at Grundy with several Trojan wrestlers taking high honors. They were: 126 — Jake Haught (2nd), 138 — David Young (1st), 155 — Sterl Cullop (1st), 185 — Steve Sproles (3rd), and Unl — Mike Shankel (2nd). These wrestlers went on to the regionals where they made a fine representation for us.

Baseball

Baseball team captures three doubleheaders for 10-11 season

While the Trojan baseball team didn't rank high in Southwest District, they made a fine effort for a 10-11 season. Taking double-headers from Richlands, Grundy, and Tazewell, the team maintained high spirits and enthusiasm throughout the spring. Leading the Trojans were pitchers — Gilmer Meade, Tim Carter, and Darrell Gilbert. Also pitching were Tony Burnette and David Hayden. Among the best hitters on the team were Marty Eads (411) and Gilmer Meade (300). After losing just four seniors the baseball team should put together a fine season in 1977.

Eighth And Ninth Graders Form JV Track Team

The junior varsity track team worked side by side with fellow varsity Trojans to acquire skills and experience. These eighth and ninth graders not only practiced long hours for their own meets, but also spent many hours helping at varsity meets. Consistently scoring high points for the team was Jackie Puckett. We look forward to seeing these young Trojans on future varsity teams.

Golfers Gain Experience During Long Season

A young Trojan golf team had a series of difficult matches, from which they gained experience and polished their strokes. The team had impressive victories over Gate City, Saltville, Lynview, and Patrick Henry, and a tie with Tennessee High. With many of the team members returning for the 1977 season, we can look forward to a great improvement in the golf season.

Girls' Basketball

Varsity team breaks losing streak

The losing streak was finally broken; the girls' basketball team had a greatly improved season this year. With only three lettermen returning, they began the year with much to learn and a new coach, too. With inexperience against them, they gave their Trojan best and came up with three victories — Riclands, Patrick Henry, and a tournament game against Patrick Henry. Although the girls outscored only three of their opponents, they played especially well in other games with VHS, Holston, Grundy and Gate City, and lost each by only a few points. With another year of experience, the Trojan women will be back for a better year in '77.

Battle makes goal in game against Abingdon.

JV Team wins 6 games

The girls' JV Basketball team put everything together and ended their season with a 6-5 ledger. Starting the season with a new coach and all but 2 eighth graders, the JV team had to practice long hours to learn techniques. After gaining some experience they beat Tazewell by 9 points. Pulling out another victory they defeated Patrick Henry in overtime. Feeling confident the JV's dove into the Richlands game and outscored the Tornadoes by 17 points. Although they lost to Abingdon and Marion, the girls showed great effort and determination and came back to smash Holston 43-19. After 2 more close defeats, the JV's slipped by Patrick Henry with 2 foul shots. Losing by a basket to Gate City in the last game of the season, the JV's were one of the few teams to have a winning season 6-5.

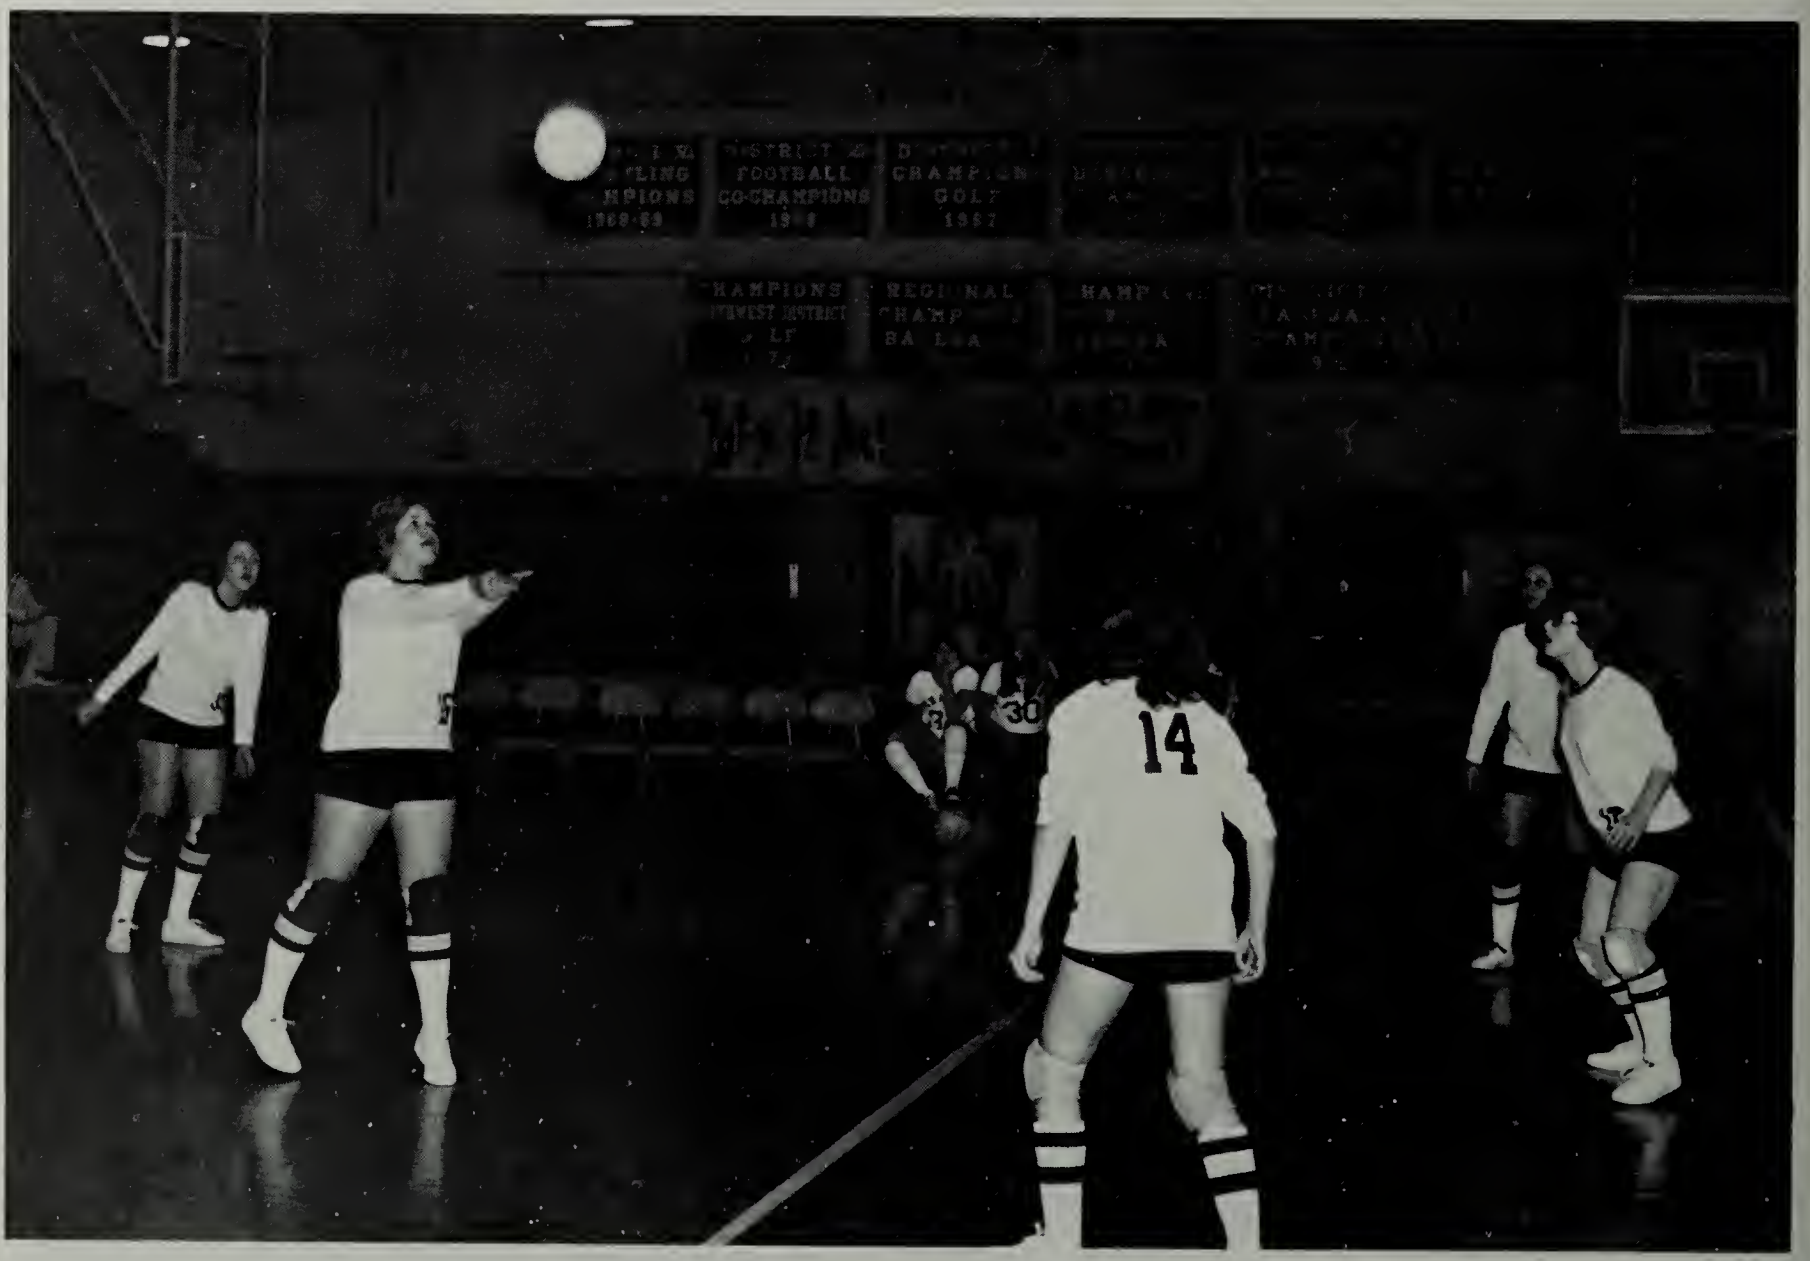

Volleyball

Volleyball team puts together great season

The volleyball team played a tough game of volleyball. Although they were small in numbers, they gave a tremendous effort to take matches from Holston, Richlands, Gate City, and Patrick Henry. As with the other sports, the volleyball matches were disrupted by the snow and cold, but they managed to get all games made up.

Cheerleaders maintain "I Believe In Trojan Power" spirit

The Varsity Cheerleaders had an exciting year. During the summer, they attended camp at Wake Forest University. They returned bearing 3 blue ribbons, one red ribbon and the precious spirit stick. They started football season with a big "I Believe" campaign by making "I believe" buttons for members of the student body and faculty to wear. Throughout the year the cheerleaders did their best to stir up school spirit and spent many long hours painting signs and planning pep rallies. They actively participated in Homecoming and Winter Sports Festival Week. Their year was loaded with fun and hard work, and filled with forever cherished memories.

JV's sell programs for football games

Ever complain about having nothing to do? Well then, try being a JV cheerleader. Between long hours of practice, painting signs and decorating lockers for players, cheering for 8th grade and JV Football, girls JV and varsity Basketball, selling programs at Varsity games, JV Basketball, and wrestling, there is rarely time to sit around and do nothing. Through all the confusion of trying to be on time, remembering to bring their shakers, what uniform to wear and running to the store to get candy for spirit notes, they still manage to keep a smile on their face and back the "Trojan Team" the best way they know how. In addition to this, they raised money last summer to attend a Cheerleading camp at Wake Forest, where they received various awards for their achievements.

Their smiles, their tears, their spirit and encouragement . . . that's what makes them what they are!

There was a new attraction at John Battle this year. What? The Trojanette Drill Team. It consists of twenty girls who helped promote school spirit by performing for the student body at pep rallies and ballgames.

Not only did the girls perform, but they tried to be at most of the sports events to cheer the Trojan Teams on.

The team was led by co-captains, Lisa Sharrett and Tammy Stevens, under the direction of sponsor, Mrs. Sandra Kemmish.

School Board initiates new programs at JSB

Although most of us did not have the opportunity to meet our school board members, we are grateful for their assistance throughout the year. Not only was the board responsible for school budgets, policies, and regulations, but for curriculum in all elementary schools and the four high schools. They worked closely with school principals and teachers to develop and promote the best possible education for students in Washington County.

We especially appreciate their concern for initiating the curriculum changes at Battle. They have made possible the English electives, the vocational semester courses, and the eighth grade exploratory program.

Much of the work done to keep our school in order was done by the office staff, who assisted Mr. Farnsworth, Mr. Rector, and Mr. Halstead. The office workers were instrumental in the efficient operation of each school day. Mrs. Peggy Sisk, bookkeeper, worked hard to pay bills, to receipt fees from students, to order senior pictures, and to handle assembly program deposits. Helping Mrs. Sisk was Mrs. Jan Stringer, who prepared absentee reports daily, in addition to her other responsibilities. There were also two student workers, Cindy Morgan and Judy Martin, who worked in the office second period. NHS members also helped the office staff by making change for the students throughout the day.

Teachers planned new courses

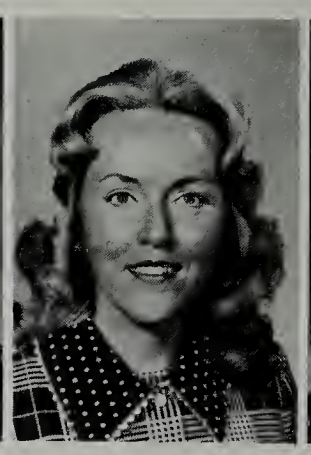

Our teachers have developed many new courses during the past year. Many hours were spent by teachers in preparing for changes in the curriculum — such as the English electives — which meant working 2 weeks of the summer to write up new courses. Other teachers were involved in the new exploratory program, and many more in implementing new ideas into their course offerings. Although they seemed preoccupied with homework and grades, teachers are most interested in the students and their future.

Coaches "believe"

For many of our teachers, coaching one or more sports occupied a primary concern. Coaching is more than just instructing a team — it meant hours of practice, standing behind the team and the individual, developing sportsmanlike attitudes and, of course, the constant pressure to win! Each of the coaches deserve a special thanks for their efforts and dedication, and for "believing" in the teams and players.

Miss Craig represented Wash. Co. in Virginia Teacher-of-the Year

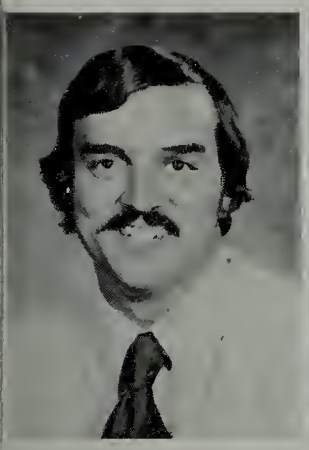

This year many awards were presented to both students and teachers. During the traditional awards assembly, faculty members gave awards to students for high achievement in the various subject areas. In addition to these student awards, several teachers received recognition for their dedication to our school — Mr. Mashburn, Mrs. Henley, and Mr. Garland were among the recipients. Another honor came to one of our teachers, Miss Craig, who was chosen to represent Washington County in the Virginia teacher of the year contest. Many other teachers have received awards during the year for their hard work and achievement.

as we believe in each other. These friends, that we trust and believe in, are a part of this year and a part of our lives. We know we can count on each other for help when we need it. We share our thoughts and feelings, our joys and sorrows, and most of all — each other. We make new friends, while others move away. Each person we know, in all of our classes, makes a small impression on our lives. Our friends have influenced us and molded us into what we are.

Class of 1977 remembers . . .

"We've only just begun" . . . for though we have reached that long-awaited summit—there is much, much more to live for. This year and those before it have been a mere preparation for the life ahead. Everything we have done — from the election class officers, to the Sadie Hawkins dance, to athletic events, to clubs, to classes, to friends and many more, have made us what we are for today and tomorrow. Most of us will remember Joan Dingus, as more than just the Senior Class Sponsor; she was the backbone behind these activities and the driving force that made those senior activities an overwhelming success. And as we pass through these doors to a bigger world —"Remember yesterday, live for today, and dream for tomorrow."

Seniors lead spirit for many pep rallies.

Seniors actively take part in 1976 Presidential and local campaigns

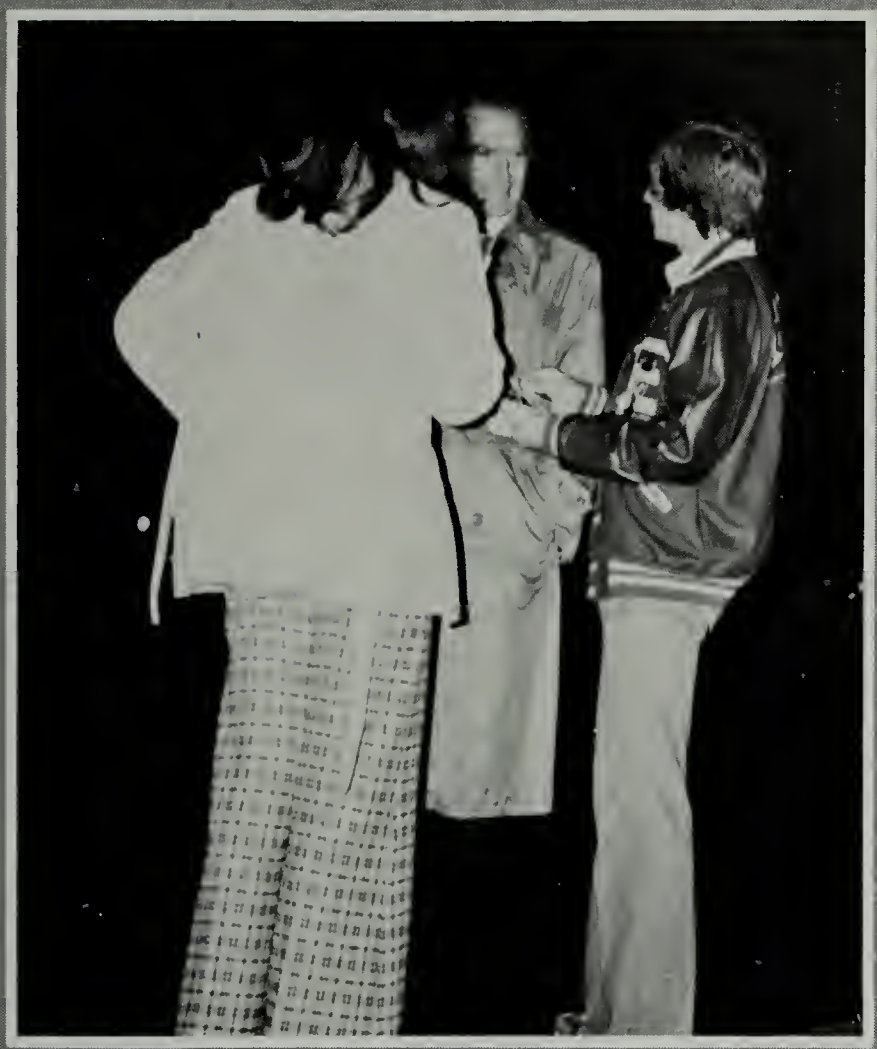

This year started off with a busy Fall of campaigning, debating, decisions, elections and the inevitable — a winner and a loser. The government classes were quite involved in following the day by day events, as were the current history classes. Several students actively campaigned for Presidentual candidates as well as local candidates. The Senior government classes visited the polls (in JSB auditorium) where they watched the election in progress. Many Seniors who had reached that ripe old age of 18 were able to vote in their first Presidential election, several of the classes mapped out the state- by-state vote in Jimmy Carter's victory over President Gerald Ford.

Seniors puzzled by order forms.

Seniors made big decisions for graduation

Remember the day announcements were ordered? and the class keys? and the Senior pictures? caps and gowns? More expenses in the life of a senior in high school — but without these important expenses there would not have been such a great year as '77. Each of these mementos added a special finish to this special Senior year.

We believe in young love . . .

Like every other American high school this year, our halls have been crowded with young couples holding hands as they go to classes. For many of these high school romances are but a memory, while for others it is just the beginning of a life-long relationship. It may have started with a promise ring or a class ring, then an engagement ring, and finally some day the wedding band. Whatever the ring, it is merely a token or symbol of a feeling we believe in and depend on — Love.

After four years of study 150 students reached that ultimate level — SENIOR. Of course being a senior meant still more studying. All seniors were required to take Government and English 12. While government classes were wrapped up in the election, English classes were experiencing the first attempt at an electives program. Seniors found themselves the leaders in elective classes with sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Seniors also found that extra incentative for an A-average — NO EXAM!

Seniors study half days and work afternoons

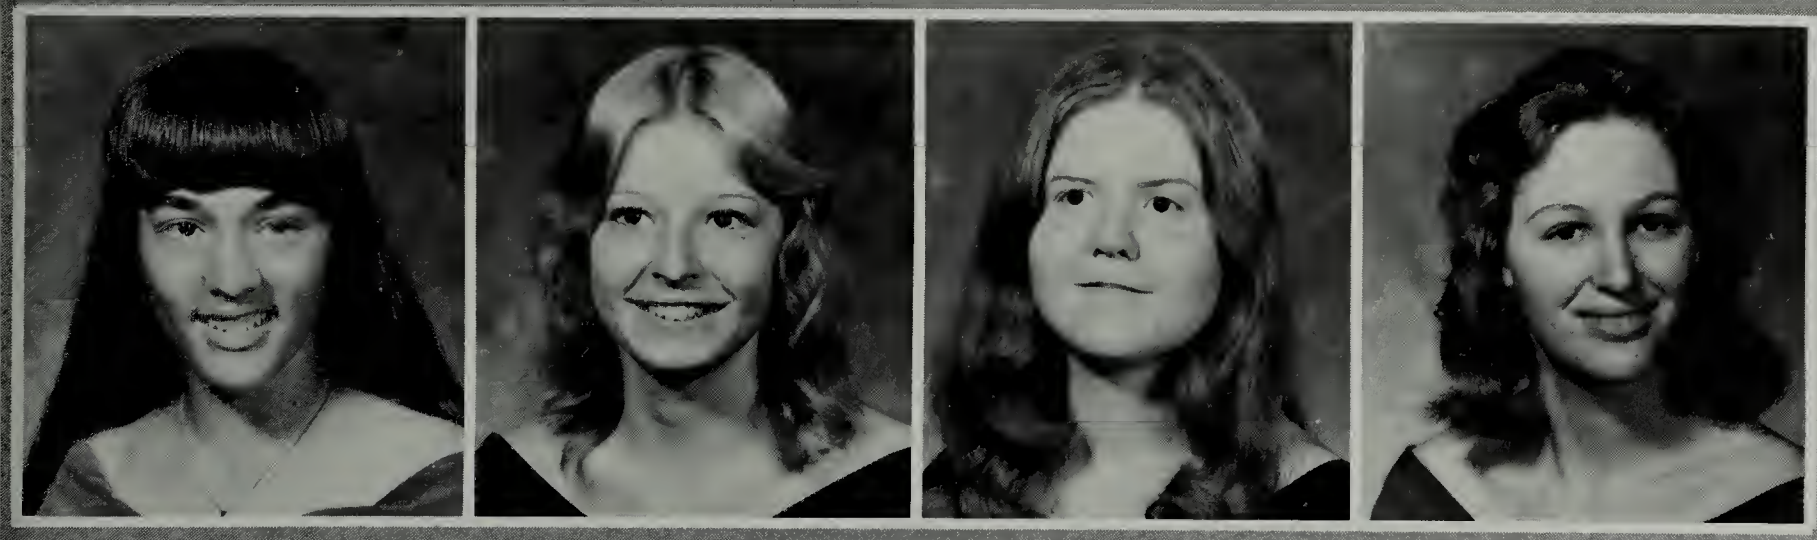

In addition to their required courses, seniors enrolled in a wide range of other courses. Some seniors participated in DE for a work-study program, while others spent half of their day at Neff center learning skills that would give them a vocation, and still others took classes in business, science, math and many more. These courses have prepared the seniors for the world they will enter after graduation.

Mr. Mashburn's seventh period class helps him celebrate his birthday . . . a little early!

Seniors find many other distractions from studies

Well — studying is fine but the seniors knew that all work and no play would make for a dull day. They managed to distract or break away from their classes. One such occasion was a surprise birthday party for Mr. Mashburn complete with cake, hats and a gift. We never did figure out how old he was? Of course, other seniors found diversion during study-lunch for thump football and browsing in the library.

What senior year would be complete without Homecoming, the SCA Follies, dances, the Christmas play, and the Senior talent show? Many members of the Class of '77 decorated the halls during Homecoming. From the 50 contestants in the Follies, Bruce Bentley was chosen for Miss SCA Follies. Finally in the spring, seniors displayed their many talents at the Senior Talent Show.

Seniors believe in JSB sports

Seniors supported JSB by taking an active role in all of the sports programs. Seniors participated in football, track, baseball, girls' basketball, volleyball, and wrestling. They also contributed to the team effort in cross country, basketball, golf, and indoor track. Every senior gave an all-out effort to help the team make the best showing possible. They gave us much to be proud of — from winning to making all regional teams. During the Athletic banquet seniors received letters for participation in the different sports, as well as being named to most valuable players on the different teams.

Seniors

Class of 1977 chose yellow rose and school colors

From the class of 1977, the seniors chose forty of their classmates to represent the "most" and the "best" in their class. In addition to choosing their fellow classmates as these superlatives, they also voted on a motto, flower, colors, and a song. In keeping with the tradition, they selected the yellow rose for their flower, and the school's colors of green, white and gold. The motto was — "Remember yesterday, live for today, and dream for tomorrow" and the song — "We've Only Just Begun."

Mr. and Miss Phoenix chosen for 1977

This year Mr. and Miss Phoenix were chosen from the entire senior class by a group of local photographers. They were selected on the basis of natural beauty and photogenic qualities. Chosen to represent the senior class were Angie Blackwell, Miss Phoenix, and Sterl Cullop, Mr. Phoenix.

Angie Blackwell has been involved in many different activities during her high school years. She has held many class and club offices, and amongst the top 10 finalists in the Miss JSB Contest her sophomore year. Sterl Cullop has also made numerous contributions to our school. He has participated in varsity sports: football, wrestling, track, and baseball. He also held offices in various clubs and was chosen as "Best Looking" by fellow seniors.

Juniors

The Junior class elected their officers in September. These students were not only elected as officers but as leaders of the Prom Committee. They met several times to organize the Magazine Sales with Mr. Waddell. The profit from the magazines went toward financing the 1977 Junior- Senior Prom. They spent many tedious hours planning and finalizing the prom. The officers appointed other juniors to help on the Refreshment, Decoration, Publicity, and Band committees.

The Junior Class would also like to thank their sponsors, Mrs. Nancy Parker and Mr. Randy Smith, for their cooperation and leadership.

Junior magazine sales top AHS once again

This year the juniors sold magazines to raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom. The junior homerooms competed each day for high sales. Prizes were given to students bringing in the largest orders. Ricky Johnson won a huge bear for first place; others selling over $100 were — Lynda Widner, Dirk Warriner, Connie Shortt, Ricky Chafin, Tony Fleenor, and Angie Cross. Steve Sproles also won $10 in a lucky pen. In the continuing contest against Abingdon High, John Battle juniors again out sold the juniors from AHS. The funds raised financed the 1977 Junior-Senior Prom.

Juniors receive long awaited class rings

The juniors finally received their long awaited for class rings in September. They had ordered their rings at the end of their sophomore year in order to receive them by their junior year. The day the rings arrived, each homeroom was called to Mr. Rector's office to pick them up. The juniors will always cherish these rings for they signify the hard work and pleasure each student found at John S. Battle.

Sophomores elect new class officers

The sophomore class met in September and elected their class officers. These officers helped bring together sophomores and boost their class spirit. Although they never captured the spirit stick, the sophomores did a great job of decorating their lockers and making signs to support their teams. Sophomores were involved in many clubs, athletic events, and other activities. They contributed in many way to a great year. Mrs. Penny Bruce was their sponsor.

Sophomores enthused about new classes in curriculum 1976-77

Sophomores exerted enthusiasm in many of their classes, but especially in the changes that were made through coed Phys. Ed. and English Electives. During the coed phys. ed. classes, the students experienced many new activities. In addition to new coed classes, the sophomores were able to take new elective English classes with Juniors and Seniors. They found these new classes both rewarding and fun.

Sophomores chose many other courses to study — from World History, to Current history, economics, bookkeeping, home economics, semester offerings as well as trade school, and many more. From this year of study, the sophomores have gained in valuable amounts of information to prepare them for graduation.

Sophomores take part in JV and varsity sports programs

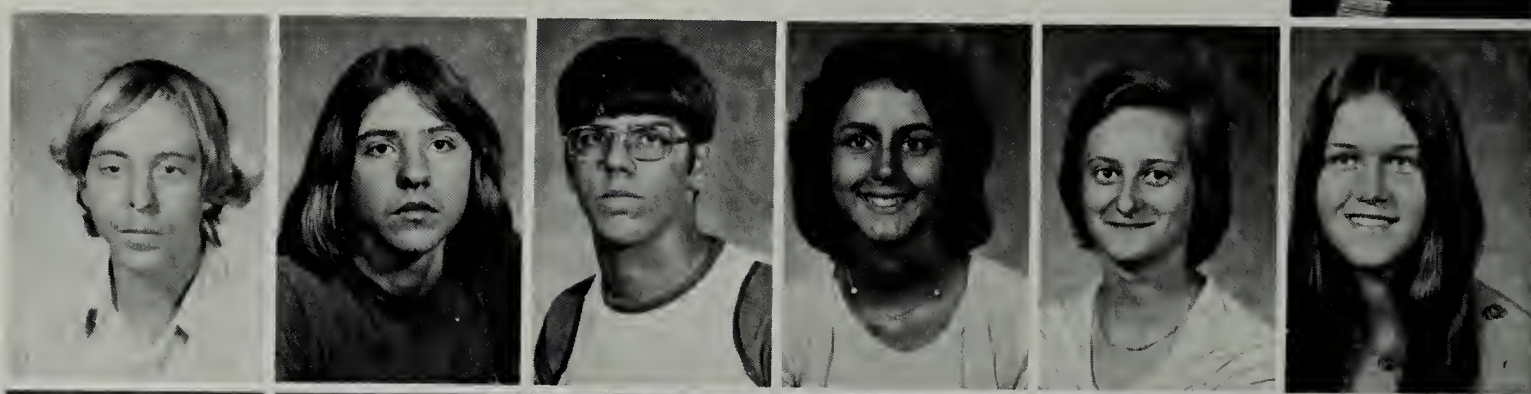

Both boys and girls in the Sophomore class were given the chance to participate in JV as well as varsity sports. They played an active role in football, Cross country, girls basketball, indoor track, golf, baseball, and track. The Sophomores really put forth their efforts and support to help make a success of this opportunity. From their determination we know they will have promising junior and senior years in sports. The experience gained now will make a difference in future years.

Sophomores order long awaited class rings in spring, 1977

Sophomores were involved in many other events throughout the year — varying from skating parties, club meetings, assembly programs, Miss John Battle and finally the traumatic — ordering of class rings. The ordering of the rings was probably the most awaited and exciting event for the sophomore class. The sophomores had a variety of stones and ring designs to choose from to help personalize their rings. They will receive their rings in the fall.

Freshmen elect class officers

During the fall of the year, the freshmen elected members of their class to serve as officers for the coming year. These officers led the freshmen class spirit at pep rallies and ballgames. The freshmen were also active participants in the many clubs in Homecoming decorations and sports. Many individuals showed outstanding spirit by decorating their lockers for these special occasions.

The eighth grade got off to a great start with the help of the SCA orientation. In addition to their required classes, eighth graders were able to take elective classes, as well as the new exploratory classes. Apart from their studies, eighth graders were occupied with sports, clubs pep rallies, and a new life. They took an active part in all activities, from homecoming decorations to student follies.

Because of the bad winter and school missed, the eighth grade class was unable to elect class officers. However, their year was not dampened, and they made the best of each day.

We believe in

fun times . . .

that bring out the best in each of us. During these few special events of the year we find another escape from our homework. Each of these highlights holds a special memory for each of us. Much hard work goes into the many special events of the year. But the work in preparation was often as much fun as the event. These moments brought all of us together in a special way. What school year would be complete without dances, festivals, and finally graduation.

Homecoming

I believe it rained

Despite the cold and rainy night, a large crowd turned out for homecoming. Showers prevailed during the entire game causing the half-time activities to be curtailed. As the field was ankle-deep in water, the homecoming candidates and court were presented at the bottom of the stands amidst a flock of umbrellas.

Robin Collier, escorted by Bryan Linkous was crowned Homecoming Queen by Lori Branson Noonkester, 1975 Queen, who was escorted by her husband, Mike Noonkester. Pam Eades was named first runner-up and Kim Odum, second runner-up. The Key Club provided flowers for the Queen and her court, as well as carnations for the escorts.

Although the rain put a splash in the game it didn't dampten the Trojan spirit, for the fans remained until the game was over. The soaked students then made their way to the cafeteria for the Homecoming Dance, sponsored by the Key Club.

Homecoming Decorations

We believe, we believe, we believe . . .

The tremendous Homecoming spirit of clubs, faculty, and individual students this year was reflected by their colorful decorations. Classroom doors suddenly blossomed from dull brown to green, gold and white as teachers competed for a mini-spirit stick which was won by Mrs. Butt. The theme "We Believe" was echoed through-out the halls by various rhymes, songs and original poems. The decorations were judged by the D. B. cheerleaders with the best decoration award going to the B-Club and the BSB taking first place. Exceptional time and effort was put forth by everyone especially the members of the Art Club.

Art Club members work on homecoming decorations.

Battle students enter Miss Washington Co. Contest

The 29th annual Miss Washington County Pageant was held in October, 1976 at 7:00 p.m. The pageant is held each year in the Abingdon High School auditorium and is sponsored by the Abingdon Civitan Club. Fifty-five girls participated in the 1976 pageant. Contestants from Battle were: Angie Canter, Donna Crabtree, Pam Eades, Carol Harley, Tammy Kitzmiller, Suzan Moore, Kim Odum, Libby Owens, and Sandy Shankel. Second runner-up was Susie Arrington, 17 year old senior from Abingdon, and first runner-up was Denise Blackburn, a 17 year old senior from Virginia High. Miss Angie Canter, a 15 year old sophomore, from Battle, was crowned Miss Washington County for 1976.

Winter Snow

We believed in a White Christmas

We believed in a "White Christmas", but a white winter was more than we had hoped for. While a snow day here and there has always been welcomed by students and teachers, the month of January got to be a little much for most people as they realized that school on Saturdays and into July would be even worse. Of course, as the days counted into the twenties, there was nothing to be done, except wait for a break in the weather.

Not only did the snow and cold cause us to miss numerous days of school, it also disrupted the athletic events. Several games and matches had to be postponed, while others were cancelled, because the season had ended. In addition to the disruptions in the athletic events, the black cloud of exams hung over the heads of students. Although the exams were eventually taken, they somehow lost their importance.

The great amounts of snow provided fun that many of us had never experienced.

The school bus sat idle for many days, while students enjoyed sledding and snowballing.

Winter Snow

Students returned to school on Wednesday, February 2nd, after a month's vacation and a total of 21 snow days to be made-up.

Winter snow accumulated into many inches from the many snowfalls.

The winter of '77 will be remembered by all — for missing over twenty days of school, for the natural gas shortage that not only curtailed business hours, but forced many businesses to close down, for the extreme cold, and for the endless, unbelievable, beautiful, white, sparkling, frosty, freezing . . .

AFS

Nathalie and others enjoy senior courtyard.

Nathalie arrived in Bristol in August for year at JSB

Nathalie Renard was our AFS exchange student. Nathalie was selected by American Field Service from other French students to spend one year in the U.S. Nathalie left Millau, France in August, 1976, and arrived in Bristol after a short stop in New York City for orientation.

During her stay in Bristol, Nathalie was a senior at our school. She was involved in many activities — including SCA, French Club, and others. Nathalie not only learned the way of American education, but also shared her French background with the students at Battle. Besides meeting many new friends here, Nathalie was also able to attend VHS, THS, Abingdon High, and Patrick Henry, where she talked with French classes and brought reality to the classroom. Her favorite class was Pre-Calculus; she'll never forget Mr. Mashburn's birthday party.

Nathalie contemplates her new life.

The family went many places together. (Cindy, Karen, Julie, Nathalie, Mary Sue, Emory, Margaret)

Nathalie has four American sisters

Nathalie stayed with the Bennett's in Lowry Hills. She had four sisters — Mary Sue, Cindy, Julie, and Karen. During their spare time, they enjoyed playing guitars both at home and at church. On Saturdays they trekked off to Interstate Bowl, where Nathalie improved her score tremendously. With her family Nathalie was able to take trips to New York state, as well as to the beach in South Carolina. She enjoyed her mother's cooking and was especially fond of Kool-aid and ham and cheese sandwiches. She has made a great contribution to their family and will be greatly missed when she returns to France.

Nathalie and her sisters often got together for guitar practice. (Cindy, Karen, Julie, Nathalie, Mary Sue.)

Miss John S. Battle

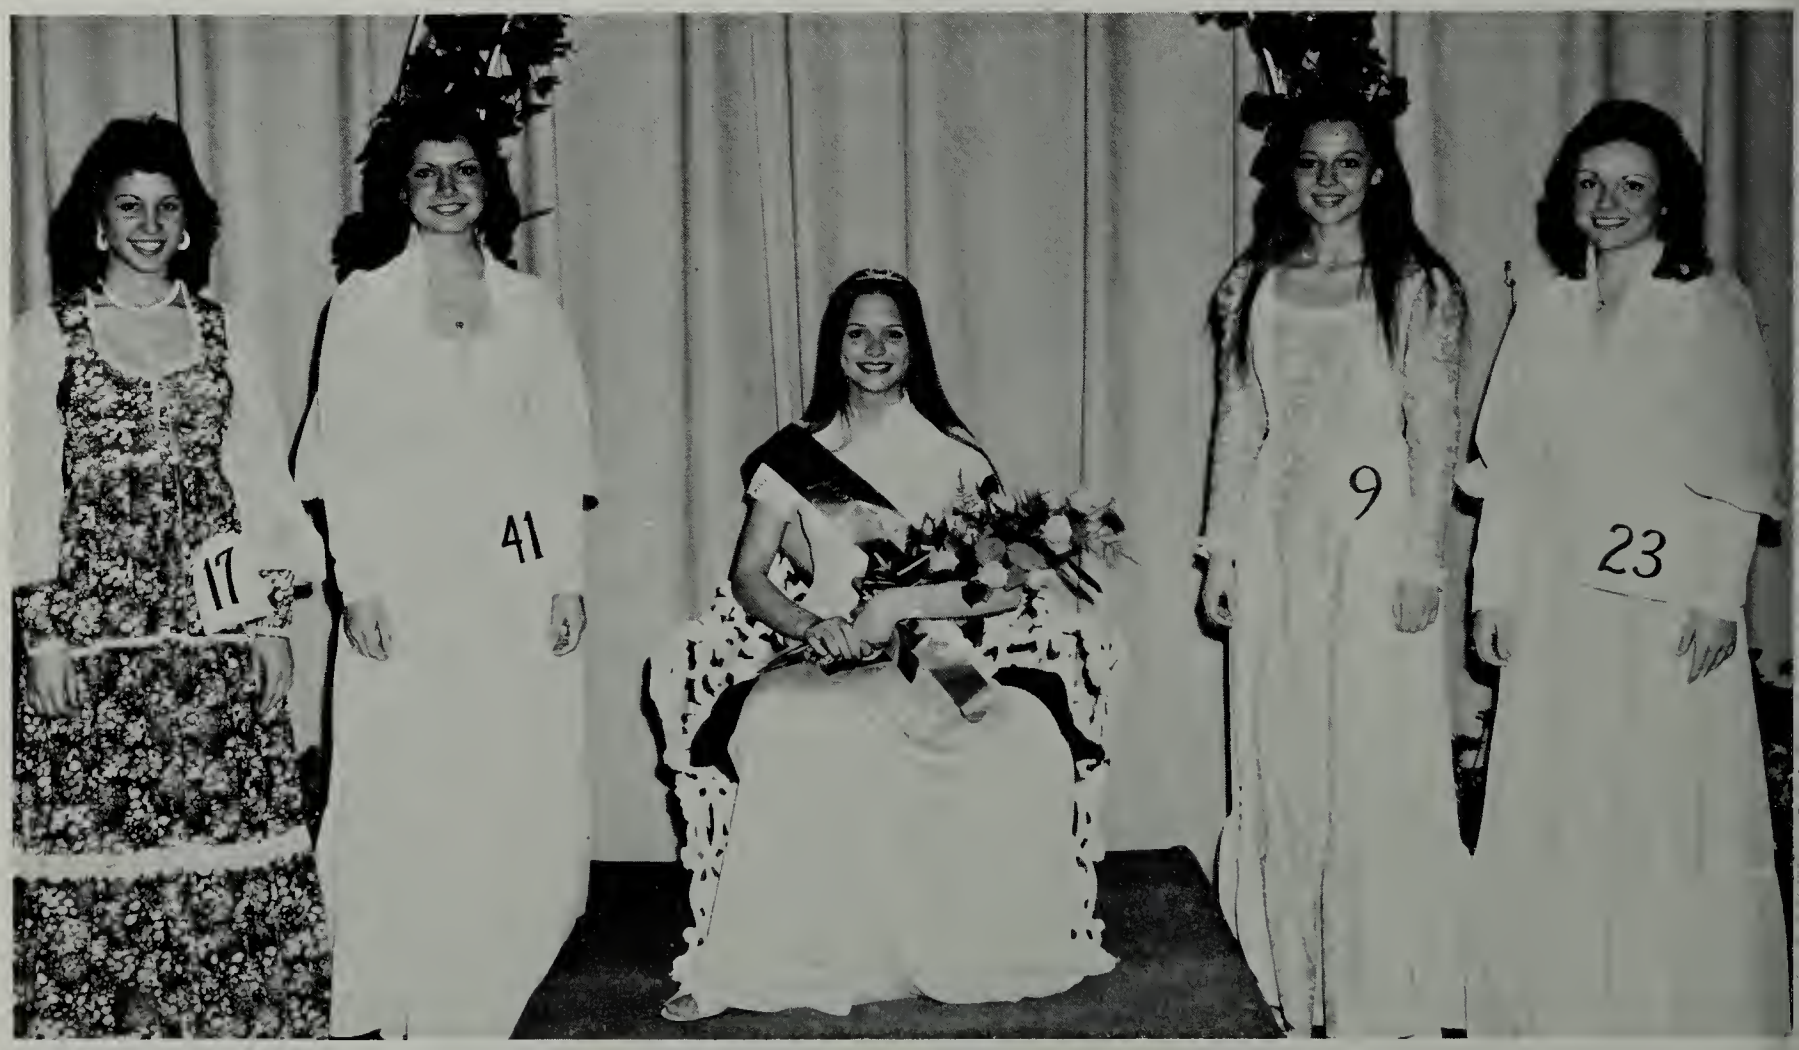

Angie Canter crowned Miss John Battle

The annual Miss John S. Battle Pageant was held March 13, 1976, in the school auditorium. The pageant was sponsored by the PTSA and directed by Mrs. Penny Bruce. Randy Smith, teacher at Battle, was master of ceremonies. Prizes for the contestants were furnished by several area merchants. The judges were Mary Burnette, Barbara Perry, Mona Sangid, and G.C. Culberson.

Over sixty girls competed for the title of Miss John Battle, based on natural beauty, poise, and grace. After three rounds of eliminations, Angie Canter was crowned Miss John S. Battle by Donna Crabtree, the 1975 Miss John Battle. Runners-up were Kim Odum (first), Karen Bowers (second), Pam Eades (third) and Lisa Ford (fourth).

Angie Canter presented Miss JSB trophy by Donna Crabtree.

3rd runner up — Pam Eades, 1st runner up — Kim Odum, Miss JSB — Angie Canter, 2nd runner up — Karen Bowers, 4th runner up — Lisa Ford.

After hours of smiling and make-up preparation the nervous contestants found their way across the endless stage of the Battle auditorium. Although everyone was anxious to be Miss John Battle, they realized that the experience and the friendship of other contestants was more important.

Mardi Gras

Mardi Gras Celebrates Spring Sports

The Mardi Gras was celebrated for the first time this year to honor the spring sports. The French Club sponsored this festive event by presenting spirit notes filled with goodies to all of those that participated in spring sports. The Mardi Gras Week began with an assembly program, during which the team members and the Mardi Gras candidates were introduced to the students. Each day of that week was set aside to honor a different sport. The Baseball team candidates, Pam Eads and Bruce Bentley, were crowned 1976 Mardi Gras Queen and King. Other events highlighting the spring sports celebration were a carnival with booths, such as pie-throwing at teachers and a dance with music by "The Rusty Bullets."

"Color My World"

"As time goes on I realize just what you mean to me, And now, now that you're near promise your love that I've waited to share and dreams of our moments together. Color My World with hopes of loving you . . ."

The words to "Color My World" will always be remembered by those attending the 1976 Junior-Senior Prom held May 15, at the V.F.W. hall. The prom was centered around the theme "Color My World" and music for the evening was provided by Shadrack. The Junior class worked hard toward their prom. Members of the prom committee were Bruce Bentley, Dennis Bevins, Sally Bordwine, Mark Braswell, Scott Brewer, Robin Collier, Becky Countiss, Donna Crabtree, Sterl Cullop, Apryl Denny, Tim Duff, Pam Eads, Jayde Fleenor, Sue Haderer, Abby Jackson, Robby Johnson, Bryan Linkous, Robert Miller, Julie Parsell, Terry Rohr, Sandy Shankel.

Graduation

Class of '76 files onto football field for graduation exercises.

Class of '76 receives diplomas

The graduating exercises for the class of 1976 were held on Tuesday June 8, at 8:00 P.M. Debbie Singleton delivered the address and Cindy McCauley gave the Farewell. The top ten percent of the graduating class were: Tom Childress, Sharon Dupont, Laurie Duty, Neil Easterly, Mike Grubb, Rita Hicks, Leisa James, Cindy McCauley, Debbie Singleton, Eddie Smith, Wayne Statzer, and Debbie Tate. Music for the graduation exercises was provided by the Trojan Band under the direction of Scott Lambert.

Marking the bi-centennial year the seniors colors were red, white, and blue. Their flower was a red rose and their song was "Have a Good Life." The class motto was: "Hold fast to dreams, for if dreams die, Life is a broken-winged bird that cannot fly."

Debbie Singleton, valedictorian, addresses her fellow classmates.

We believe in our business patrons . . .

for without their support, we could not have an annual. Their generousity is greatly appreciated, and in order to show our gratitude, we encourage each of you to patronize these businesses, who have donated to the 1977 Phoenix. These businesses believe in JSB, for from our school will come the leaders and members of tomorrow's world of business.

We believe in work and achievement . . .

We believe in striving to do our best — whether it be in class, in sports, or in life. We believe in working to achieve our dreams, for work is a noble endeavor. And without work there would be no tomorrow.

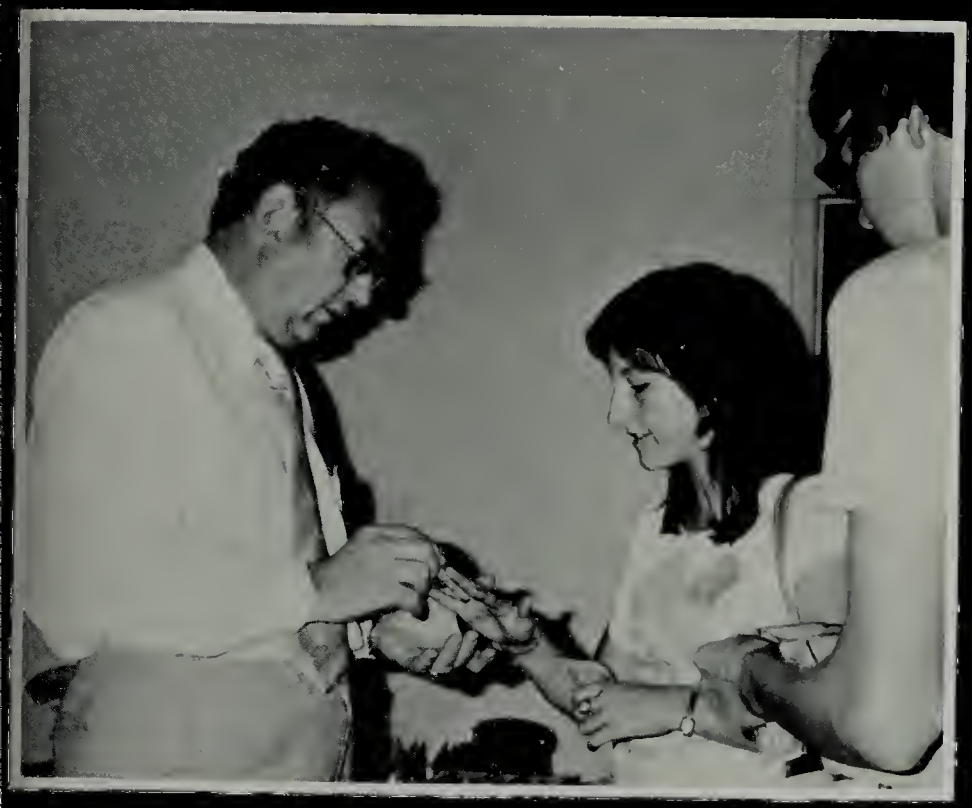

We believe in yesterday

We believe in yesterday that holds so many memories. And as we look back on our yesterdays, we remember both happy and sad moments. We are grateful for the experiences of the past, for they enabled us to find today. And so we hold fast to our yesterdays, and today . . .

but we live our todays. We believe that each of us must be a part of today. We must live each moment to the fullest, learning from ourselves as well as others. We must enjoy today before it slips to a yesterday. These moments of today can never be relived — for what we gain from yesterdays and todays, we will make use of tomorrow . . .

and tomorrow . . .

We believe in
tomorrow for it holds our hopes and dreams. If we lost sight of tomorrow, these hopes and dreams will fade away. We remember our yesterdays,
live for today, and
dream of tomorrow.
